

Chairman Wheeler:

Please do not weaken privacy protection for consumers. Internet providers already have far too much control over us - reducing services while raising prices. They do not have the right to collect and sell information about me. Don't give them that power.